Dear Mr. Cooper:

I am sorry that the draft of our proposed School of Social Service, or some part of it, was published in the papers, because it has caused a little misunderstanding. We are still working out the details. On Friday night of this week I hope to get the authorisation of the Senate for the principle of the scheme, and shortly after that to be ready with a provisional programme for next autumn. As soon as I have anything ready I will let you know.

Yours sincerely,

President.
